Additional Privacy Information

- At Cranbourne Secondary College we celebrate the achievements of our students by recognising them at assemblies, in our community newsletter, in our school magazine and the annual Awards Evening.
- Photographs of students are occasionally included in the newsletter. We do use photographs of students in our school magazine along with examples of their work and articles about their achievements. Unless a story features an individual, group photos are published and students are identified by their first name and year level only.
- The College website has images of students and student work. These students are not named.
- On Awards Nights images of students will be used, again names are not included on the video footage used.
- We invite local press to school events and they are expected to follow school policy on the publication of photographs of students. When a story is about an individual achievement, we will seek consent of the students and parents before passing information or photographs to the press for publication in the wider community.
